Headed to Haines as Renovation Project Begins

The St. Charles Public Library is moving, and we couldn’t be more excited. After years of planning, meetings, surveys, designs and checklists, it’s finally time. Our road to renovation began in 2018 and is built upon detailed input from our community, library staff and board members.

After much discussion, consideration and hard work, we have developed a plan that reflects our strategic core values. The plans reveal our patron-centric ethic, and demonstrate careful stewardship, innovation and excellence. By improving and updating our existing facility, we will give our patrons an enhanced library experience, featuring a welcoming space for the community to access information, use and learn technology, attend programs and to simply gather.

The official ground breaking ceremony for our renovated library building will be Sunday, April 5, at 2:00 p.m. The Library Board is extending an invitation to the entire community to join the celebration. Please come for opening remarks at 2:15 p.m., followed by the ground breaking, photos and refreshments.

“We thank everyone who contributed their ideas and hard work to make our Library even better. Our St. Charles Library community will reap the benefits of the updated teen, children’s and computer areas, as well as improved parking and more inviting and useful indoor and outdoor spaces,” said Library Director, Edith G. Craig.

Once we are settled in our temporary location, while the surroundings will be different, many things will stay the same. Our collection is traveling with us, our hours will be the same, computers will be available for use, and staff will be on hand to assist you with research, technology or finding your next great read. There will be no interruption in access to any of our online collections. Programming will continue off site, thanks to our community partners. We’ll continue to offer concerts, story times, genealogy, cooking, STEAM programs and so much more.

Thank you to the following community partners who are making off-site programming possible:

- Baker Community Center
- Baker Memorial United Methodist Church
- Creek Bend Nature Center at the LeRoy Oaks Forest Preserve
- Ghoulish Mortals
- Pottawatomie Community Center
- St. Charles Community Unit School District 303
- St. Charles History Museum
- St. Charles Park District
- St. Charles Police Department
- St. Charles Veterans Center

To ensure you know where off-site programs are being held, we’ve changed the look of the program details and registration. Make sure to note the location of programs, including the address, when you decide to attend.

Library staff will be available to help, too. If you have any questions about your registration, or where to find an event, please call us at 630-584-0076, or stop by any service desk.

Library Supports Community-wide Initiative for Mental Health

May is National Mental Health Awareness Month. The National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) estimates that nearly one in five individuals live with mental illness. Sadly, many people don’t seek help. Either directly or indirectly, the issue affects us all.

This May, the St. Charles Public Library, along with several libraries in the area, will be collaborating on an initiative to raise awareness, provide support, educate the public and encourage discussion and compassion. You can help by visiting the Library to browse online resources, view displays and check out materials related to this topic. Learn about mental health resources, social services and health care providers that support the mental health care system in our local communities.

Together we can make our communities stronger. For more information on this initiative, contact David Kelsey, Outreach Services Librarian, at dkelsey@scpld.org.

Hold It!

What will happen with your holds when we’re closed for packing and moving to the Library’s temporary location? You have some choices. Here’s what we’re doing, and what you can do to get your items.

1. Starting February 3, the catalog no longer offered the St. Charles Library as a pick-up point when placing a hold. Simply pick any other SWAN library that is convenient for you to visit.

2. For about a week before we temporarily close, if we have an item on the shelf, call us to hold it for you to pick up here, if you wish.

3. Remember: When you pick up items elsewhere, the other library’s due dates and policies will apply.

4. If you placed a hold before February 3 and are still waiting, you may ask us to change the pickup library, or you may manage hold details:
   a. Log in to your library account
   b. Choose “Library Holds”
   c. Select the item(s)
   d. Click the “Edit Pickup Locations” button and choose a library

5. If you don’t want to go to other libraries for holds while we are closed, you may suspend your holds. You will receive the item(s) after the date you choose.

6. When in doubt, call us. Even when the building is closed, we will be answering phones and can help you with your account, holds or any other questions that you may have.

Read, Watch or Listen Anytime

While we will be experiencing changes in our physical space, our online services will remain open for business 24/7.

The Library’s online collections are more robust than ever, and we are adding to them all of the time. In anticipation of our move, we’ve bolstered them even more than usual this year. So, before you spend money at Amazon, Audible or for an online subscription, check out (literally!) our online collections. We have tens of thousands of books and millions of songs available for you to use for free online with your St. Charles Public Library card.

Besides eBooks to read and eAudiobooks to listen to, we subscribe to online magazines, graphic novels and comics, movies and TV episodes and music services. See the “Downloads” pages on our website, scpld.org, for more details. Try out the new SWAN app to search our catalog, also available under “Downloads.”

Because some publishers have exclusives with particular library vendors, you may want to download multiple apps to enjoy all that we have to offer. We can help you with that! Get the app on the device that you want to use to read, watch or listen, and we’ll help you download your first title. Once you are set up, it’s as simple as choosing the title you want and clicking to checkout/download.

Besides items to download and stream, our popular online resources and online classes will also remain available to you. So, you can still search Consumer Reports, read magazines and newspapers, study for entrance and professional exams, learn a new language, work with our online tutors and more.

SCPL Fills Need of Growing Technical Demands
With more and more resources, data, books and entertainment available online, public libraries have become the “tech help” centers of the community. The St. Charles Public Library is committed to offering our patrons high-quality technical services and experience. To that end, we recently introduced a new position: IT Technical Educator. The role developed, not only out of necessity, but as a way to stay on top of the ever-changing demands of the technical world and our patrons’ needs.

The IT Technical Educator’s role is to provide customized, flexible, approachable and engaging technical learning opportunities to patrons and Library staff. We were fortunate to find Sarah Pistilli, whose high-level qualifications make her a great fit for this job. With her Master of Science in Instructional Technology, plus her work experience as a teacher and technical specialist, Pistilli brings the necessary skills to offer all levels of technology education to people while making the material understandable, especially to those who may not be “tech savvy.”

As for her new role, Pistilli is excited to “find ways to make technology work for people.” That philosophy fits in perfectly with the Library’s core values: making information available and easily accessible to our patrons and providing the resources to achieve that objective. For questions, contact Sarah Pistilli at spistilli@scpld.org.

What the Staff is Reading

Daughter of Moloka’i
Alan Brennert • FIC BRENNERT
The gripping story of a daughter born to lepers and then adopted by a Japanese family who move to California in the 1920s. This dramatic family saga also covers historical events such as the unsettled hatred of the Americans toward the Japanese, the bombing of Pearl Harbor and internment camps. A great follow up to the book Moloka’i, but it also stands alone.

The Wife Between Us
Greer Hendricks • FIC HENDRICKS
A five-star psychological thriller filled with plot twists, red herrings and unreliable narrators.

All Systems Red
Martha Wells • FIC WELLS
The first in the Murderbot Diaries series – science fiction that is smart and funny, but also touching. The protagonist is very relatable: a neurotic, introverted cyborg who doesn’t like people and would rather binge entertainment videos than do their actual job.

Snow Hunters
Paul Yoon • FIC YOON
This quiet novel about displacement and friendship features a North Korean War refugee who emigrates to Brazil to become a tailor’s apprentice.

The Noticer
Andy Andrews • 170.44 AND
A wonderful, uplifting book about a man named “Jones” who provides personal perspective on different issues. A fantastic mix of fiction, allegory and inspiration. The audio version is even better: the author’s voice is like listening to a grandfather’s caring life lessons.

The Moth Presents Occasional Magic: True Stories of Defying the Impossible
808.543 OCC
Stories that are written adaptations of heartfelt narratives, originally presented on “The Moth” podcasts and radio events. Captivating and eloquent, they bear witness to hopes, dreams and triumphs.

Read before you watch
In May, look for “Greyhound” starring Tom Hanks (film adaptation of C. S. Forester’s classic war novel The Good Shepherd) and “The Woman in the Window” (based on the book of the same title by A. J. Finn).

2nd Tuesday Book Discussion

The Library offers two book discussion groups: Mornings at 10:00 a.m. and Evenings at 7:00 p.m. in Conference Room A at Haines.
